

“That’s just how I am!”

We live in a ‘That’s just how I am’
society...

“That’s just how I am!”

...we don’t just see this attitude in worldly people. It crops up in all of us when there’s some behavior/sin that we shouldn’t allow to continue in ourselves. I see even Christians use this excuse to justify the continuing of some wrong in their life...

“That’s just how I am!”

...How hypocritical to expect sinners to change but we’re unwilling to change ourselves...we need to STOP using this phrase as an excuse to sin.”

“That’s just how I am!”

Other effects of this attitude problem

It’s hypocrisy and it ruins my credibility.
It allows spiritual laziness to continue.
It implies that some sins are okay.
